Independent Review Into Regional, Rural and Remote Education John Halsey 2018 In 2017, the Minister for Education and Training commissioned an independent review to identify the key issues and challenges that impact upon the learning outcomes of regional, rural, and remote students in Australia and consider new approaches that can support their access, achievement, and transition to further study or employment. This report presents the findings and recommendations of the review. The recommendations and their supporting actions are based around four priority areas: establishing a national focus; leadership, teaching, curriculum, and assessment; information and communications technology; and transitioning into and out of school. The review was guided by the principle that vibrant and productive rural communities are integral to Australia's sustainability and prosperity and that improvement in education is achieved by exploring how existing resources can be used more effectively, rather than just by allocating more of them.

978-1-78379-508-6 It is the writer's conviction that Dogma is the foundation of Ascetical Theology and that an exposition of what God has done and still does for us is the most efficacious motive of true devotion. Hence, care has been taken to recall briefly the truths of faith on which the spiritual life rests. This treatise then is first of all doctrinal in character and aims at bringing out the fact that Christian perfection is the logical outcome of dogma, especially of the central dogma of the Incarnation. The work however is also practical, for a vivid realization of the truths of faith is the strongest incentive to earnest and steady efforts towards the correction of faults and the practice of virtues. Consequently in the first part of this treatise the practical conclusions that naturally flow from revealed truths and the general means of perfection are developed. The second part contains a more detailed exposition of the special means of advancing along the Three Ways towards the heights of perfection. Contents: FIRST PART: Principles SECOND PART: The Three Ways BOOK I: The Purification of the Soul or the Purgative Way BOOK II: The Illuminative Way BOOK III: The Unitive Way PUBLISHER: CATHOLIC WAY PUBLISHING
