Boy Nobody Allen Zadoff 2013-06-11 They needed the perfect assassin. Boy Nobody is the perennial new kid in school, the one few notice and nobody thinks much about. He shows up in a new high school in a new town under a new name, makes a few friends, and doesn't stay long. Just long enough for someone in his new friend's family to die-of "natural causes." Mission accomplished, Boy Nobody disappears, moving on to the next target. But when he's assigned to the mayor of New York City, things change. The daughter is unlike anyone he has encountered before; the mayor reminds him of his father. And when memories and questions surface, his handlers at The Program are watching. Because somewhere deep inside, Boy Nobody is somebody: the kid he once was; the teen who wants normal things, like a real home and parents; a young man who wants out. And who just might want those things badly enough to sabotage The Program's mission. In this action-packed series debut, author Allen Zadoff pens a page-turning thriller that is as thought-provoking as it is gripping, introducing an utterly original and unforgettable antihero.

Acoustemologies in Contact Emily Wilbourne 2021-01-19 In this fascinating collection of essays, an international group of scholars explores the sonic consequences of transcultural contact in the early modern period. They examine how cultural configurations of sound impacted communication, comprehension, and the categorisation of people. Addressing questions of identity, difference, sound, and subjectivity in global early modernity, these authors share the conviction that the body itself is the most intimate of contact zones, and that the culturally contingent systems by which sounds made sense could be foreign to early modern listeners and to present day scholars. Drawing on a global range of archival evidence—from New France and New Spain, to the slave ships of the Middle Passage, to China, Europe, and the Mediterranean court environment—this collection challenges the privileged position of European acoustical practices within the discipline of global-historical musicology. The discussion of Black and non-European experiences demonstrates how the production of 'the canon' in the cosmopolitan centres of colonial empires was underpinned by processes of human exploitation and extraction of resources. As such, this text is a timely response to calls within the discipline to decolonise music history and to contextualise the canonical works of the European past. This volume is accessible to a wide and interdisciplinary audience, not only within musicology, but also to those interested in early modern global history, sound studies, race, and slavery.

Boy Nobody Allen Zadoff 2014-10-22 È il classico ragazzo nuovo che arriva a scuola senza dare nell'occhio, l'ombra che nessuno nota. Si presenta in un liceo, in una città ogni volta diversa, con un nuovo nome, pochi amici e non rimane mai a lungo: giusto il tempo di veder morire qualcuno per "cause naturali" nella famiglia del suo migliore amico di turno. Missione compiuta, Boy Nobody scompare, è pronto per il prossimo obiettivo, e il "programma" è al sicuro. Ma quando il suo bersaglio è il sindaco di New York, le cose cambiano. Boy Nobody si rende conto che la figlia del sindaco, Sam, è così simile a lui, forte all'apparenza e allo stesso tempo fragile; il sindaco gli ricorda suo padre, quello vero, quello che non c'è più. Anche se i supervisori del "programma" lo osservano, gli stanno addosso, i ricordi e le domande affiorano e con loro i dubbi che rischiano di scalfire la sua fede nella missione. Da qualche parte dentro di sé, Boy Nobody sente di essere stato, un tempo, diverso dal guerriero senza scrupoli che è diventato. Aveva aspirazioni normali, una casa, dei genitori presenti e premurosi, una ragazza di cui innamorarsi. Desiderare la normalità, però, non è mai stato tanto pericoloso.

Mission accomplished, Boy Nobody disappears, and moves on to the next target. When Boy Nobody was just eleven, he discovered his own parents had died of not-so-natural causes. He soon found himself under the control of The Program, a shadowy government organization that uses brainwashed kids as counter-espionage operatives. At least until he began to ask questions and challenge his orders -- until he fell in love with his target. Now The Program is worried that its valuable soldier has become a liability. Boy Nobody, haunted by the outcome of his last assignment, is given a new mission. A test of sorts. A chance to show his loyalty. His objective: Take out Eugene Moore, the owner of a military training and indoctrination camp for teenagers. One target. Limited time frame. Public place. It sounds simple, but a previous operative couldn't do it. He lost the mission and is presumed dead. Boy Nobody is confident he can finish the job. Quickly.
